Crime rate grows along with village

By MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

One of the apparent downsides to Antioch's growth spurt is a proportionate increase in crimes.

"I'm anticipating a lot more growth in Antioch and consequently a lot more police problem," said Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller, "they go hand in hand."

According to Miller, records show that so far in 1990, the Antioch Police Dept. has responded to 2,500 more calls than in 1989. The amount collected in court fines has increased more than $2,000 through November.

As for crime itself, sharp increases were reported in the incidences of vandalism and domestic disturbances. Vandalism complaints rose 50 percent from 186 to 279, while cases of domestic violence climbed 33 percent from 195 to 261.

"Domestic violence is one of the worst cases that a police officer can go on," said Miller, "that takes a lot of time off the streets for the officer."

Miller correlates the increase in the police department's statistics with the increase in development and consequently numbers of people in the village. By offering a number of drawing cards, such as restaurants and shopping, that neighboring areas may not, Miller estimates that, at peak times, the village accommodates in excess of 30,000 people. Visitors are consistently drawn in from Southern Wisconsin, as well as from Lake Villa Twp.

According to Vill. Admin. Tim Wells, unofficial 1990 census figures show the population of the village at 6,072. That number is expected to grow by nearly 4,000 within the next three to seven years, with the development of several approved subdivisions, accommodating 1,200 units and approximately three people per unit.

Development within the village has placed demands for infrastructural improvements, particularly for new roads.

"We've taken in a lot more roads due to development," said Miller.

This corresponds with a rise in auto accidents and driving-related offenses. Through November, the department had responded to 480 automobile accidents, up from 448 in 1989. Accidents involving injuries increased significantly from 55 in 1989 to 82 this year. Drunk driving arrests also increased slightly.

Wauconda sets levy

WAUCONDA — After listening to the protests of taxpayers, the Wauconda School Board unanimously approved a tax levy which is over $2 million more than last year. The large increase in the money asked for is due to this use of a "balloon" levy, or an estimation that property values have gone up by 30 percent over the last year. In this way, the district will be able to tax at the maximum allowable rate. The effect of the increase will be higher tax bills for area residents. It is estimated that the taxes on a home with a market value of $100,000 will pay approximately $133 more.

95 sets levy

LAKE ZURICH — A small but inquisitive group of concerned citizens fired their questions concerning a new-school referendum and tax levy at the District 95 school board during two public hearings Dec. 20. The board still has to decide whether to put the referendum for a $12-13 million bond issue on the April ballot. The money would finance the building of a new elementary school and second junior high school on a 40-acre parcel at Cuba and Deerpath roads. The board passed the new levy which cover the 1991-92 school year and generate a total of nearly $23.5 million. The total property taxes extended for the 1989 levy amounted to just over $18 million. The increase is 28 percent.

Crime reports up

ANTIOCH—According to Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller, records show that so far in 1990, the Antioch Police Dept. has responded to 2,500 more calls than in 1989. The amount collected in court fines has increased more than $2,000 through November. As for crime itself, sharp increases were reported in the incidences of vandalism and domestic disturbances. Vandalism complaints rose 50 percent from 186 to 279, while cases of domestic violence climbed 33 percent from 195 to 261.

Prepare for future

LINDENHURST—Lindenhurst Mayor Robert Ratch points to pivotal milestones in 1990 which have formed the foundation for the future of the village.

The catalyst, he says, are infrastructural improvements. He notes the low interest loan that the village was granted to finance construction of a municipal wastewater treatment plant. Work on the facility is progressing as scheduled and operation will commence in 1991. The wastewater treatment plant, together with the construction of a 75,000 gallon water tower and improved roads, have paved the way for development.

Waiting is over

LAKE VILLA—Lake Villa Mayor Joyce Frayer predicts that the waiting is over for several long-awaited building projects. Five integral building projects, bandied about in meetings for months, appear to be progressing from the discussion stages to the groundbreaking stages. With continued progress, Frayer says that by 1992 Lake Villa should have a new water tower, a new south sewer line in service, a north sewer line under construction, Park Ave. built and exiting onto Rt. 83, and improvements on and subdivision of the railroad property.

Recognize tutors

NORTH CHICAGO—North Chicago Dist. 187 saluted some 150 volunteers who pitched in to help the district's tutoring program at a breakfast at North Chicago Community High School.

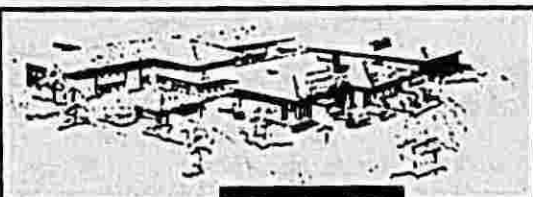

Volunteers included Great Lakes Naval Training Center and Abbott Laboratories employees and residents.

Ponder duplexes

GURNEE—Citing the need to examine views expressed by neighborhood residents, the Gurnee Plan Commission delayed a vote on a proposal for duplexes until January. In the meantime, Sharon and Larry Dempski will discuss with village staff members whether or not to go with a Planned Unit Development (PUD) for the duplexes. The Dempskis are expected to tell the village staff whether to continue to seek a zoning change from R-3 to R-4 or got the PUD route by the plan commission's Jan. 2 meeting. The hearing itself was continued until the Jan. 16 meeting.

Assistance increase

AVON TWP.—General assistance payments are experiencing a sharp increase this year, according to Avon Twp. Supv. Russ Christian. From an average of $2,500 per month, they are up to a high of $7,500 per month. Part of this increase is due to a new assistance formula, and part is due to increasing layoff and the economic recession. Except for approximately four recipients, the majority of the payments are one-time-only attempts to tide individuals and families over until other forms of assistance begin.

Antioch's retailers having a merry money Christmas

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Talk about a recession, complicated by the Persian Gulf crisis, had many retailers fearing a bad Christmas season.

But, even without the last minute shopping crush, most merchants in Antioch said even before the final weekend's shopping could be put into the books, sales were either the same as last year, or up just a bit.

At Jackie's Card Shop, Mgr. Kathy Kennedy says that the card and gift sales are down, but just by a little bit, and if things go as they have in previous years, last minute shoppers should make the season a profitable one.

"For the last four years, the three days before Christmas are the biggest selling days of the year, so all together we're looking at an up season," says Siegmeyer.

He adds that women's sweaters and loungewear seem to be the fastest movers at 4 Squires and, in the men's department, many area males will be getting coordinated sweaters, shirts and slacks from 4 Squires, say the sales tickets.

Donna Zelasko, manager of The Globe, claims their sales are up with lots more shopping expected over the last weekend, especially from the men.

"We're selling a lot of sportswear this year and the children's department is doing especially well," says Zelasko. She adds that a good snow just before Christmas will up sales even further because shoppers will be sticking closer to home.

But Don Marski, owner of Antioch's Ben Franklin, doesn't think it will take a lot of snow to make last minute Christmas sales great.

"Two inches just for the Christmas effect will be fine," he said.

"Our outside Christmas lights and decorations have sold phenomenally well this year," he added as he points out one of his best movers during a season when sales have been "a little up."

Anything connected with the Teenage Mutant Ninja Turtles is Ben Franklin's top seller, followed by Barbie paraphernalia and the game Scategories.

In the family center's clothing department, stirrup and print pants are fast movers.

"In our craft section, ready made items and the do-it-yourself ingredients have been doing extremely well," said the variety store owner.

At B. J's Men's Fashions, Mgr. Larry Hanson says "This year is a little quieter than last, the traffic numbers seem to be the same, but the individual sales total are slightly lower."

He adds that more casual clothing such as sweatshirts seem to be selling better than last year's winner, sweaters.

Antioch keeps watch on economy in '91

By MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

The tide of development is thrusting unencumbered toward the Village of Antioch. Its impact will be tempered by the nation's economic climate.

"You can't stop growth," said Antioch Mayor Robert Wilton, "it's coming this way and we want to be prepared for it."

Preparations include proper zoning, improvements on roads and commercial development. The interest rates and the economy will be a barometer to this growth.

"We're in an area that we're going to get hit real hard," he added.

Improving access to the village is a key consideration for softening the blow of growth and development, according to Wilton. Presently, only Rt. 173 and North Ave. lead in to the village. The redevelopment committee is examining the feasibility of an extension of Orchard St. through to Depot St. Traffic signals are already scheduled to be installed at Orchard and Main Streets by this spring.

Wilton hopes that 1991 will bring a commitment from METRA put Antioch on its commuter rail route. The Antioch 100th Anniversary Committee is working on plans to reconstruct the old railroad station to be used as the METRA depot. METRA officials have expressed interest in the plan.

"Hopefully, in 1992 we'll have service," said Wilton.

The addition of rail service will mean added convenience for present and future village residents. According to Vill. Admin. Tim Wells, unofficial 1990 census figures show the population of the village at 6,072. That number is expected to grow by nearly 4,000 within the next three to seven years, with the development of several approved subdivisions, accommodating 1,200 units and approximately three people per unit.

"I think we had some good development," added Wilton of progress in 1990.

Wilton points to the following major development projects as significant to Antioch's future and development: Wind Mill Creek with 40 to 50 homes in Phase I, Heron Harbor with as many as 400 homes, the O'Leary development on Rt. 173 east of Deep Lake Road including 50 or more one-acre homes, and Carl Zimmerman's development on Rt. 59.

The viability of these projects may be contingent on the interest rates and the economy. Regardless of these factors, the addition of residents will place stronger demands on the schools. In 1990, the village updated its impact fees ordinance, requiring that new developments are charged $3,000 per unit to help relieve consequent stress on the school system.

"You want to eliminate the same taxpayers paying for improvements year after year," said Wilton.

Improvements are also being sought for the downtown area. Wilton concedes that the bulk of commercial activity exists along Rt. 83. However, the redevelopment committee is studying ways to restore the downtown area to a "neat, clean, functioning" commercial center.

Antioch man injured in shooting

A 23-year old Antioch man found himself in the wrong place at the wrong time when he was hit by a bullet fired into a party he was attending. Kenneth Bensen was treated at St. Therese Medical Center, Waukegan, for a gunshot wound to the shoulder, Dec. 23.

According to Antioch Police Chief Chuck Miller, police had responded to complaints of fighting and a possible shooting at a party at 110 Lakewood, shortly after midnight.

Police reports say that three men had been involved in a fight at the party. They left and returned with a 30 caliber rifle. Another fight broke out after one of the men went to the door. One of his companions then allegedly shot one shot into the air and one into the house. The bullet went through the wall, striking the victim in the shoulder.

Scott Larson, 19, Trevor, was charged with reckless conduct, aggravated battery, possession of a firearm without proper firearm identification (FOID) and mob action. Justin A. McCallum, 20, Antioch, and Jerry Herron, 20, Antioch, were both charged with one count of mob action and taken to Lake County Jail.

Bensen was hospitalized briefly and released. According to Miller the bullet pierced the fleshy part of his shoulder and did not strike any bone.

Loon Lake spillway a dammed mystery

By MARY SULLIVAN
Lakeland Newspapers

The water level on both sides of Loon Lake is up eight to 12 inches on account of a mysterious and illegally constructed spillway.

Ed Roberts of the Loon Lake Management Assoc. realized something fishy was going on when he began to notice the rising water level near his home.

"Either someone put a dam up or we've got beaver here," he observed.

A certified pilot, Roberts took to the skies and flew over the lake to investigate his suspicions. His hunch was confirmed when he spotted the craftwork of an unidentified dam builder of the human persuasion.

"I knew right away that it wasn't beaver," he said, "because it was too symmetrical."

Constructed of large utility type poles, screening and cement, the structure, built without permits, is technically a spillway. Roberts believes, it was constructed to accommodate lakefront property owners concerned over receding water levels and the necessity to extend their piers.

"They were trying to do good for the local area," said Northern Illinois Conservation Club President Tom Mazur, "they just didn't think of the fact that later on in the season that water level would rise."

According to Mazur, the spillway creates the potential for flooding when waters rise naturally with the spring thaw and rains.

To relieve this threat, the spillway has

"They (dam builders) were trying to do good for the local area. They just didn't think of the fact that later on in the season that water level would rise;"—Northern Ill. Conservation Club Pres. Tom Mazur.

been opened slightly allowing passage of approximately 1,000 gallons per minute. Within 24 hours, the lake level had dropped about one-half inch, said Mazur.

"We have to let it go slowly, because we don't want to harm anybody down the creek," added Mazur.

Meetings are being planned between Mazur, Loon Lake officials and the Illinois Dept. of Transportation (the regulatory body for waterways), to investigate the possibility of locating a "controlled" apparatus or flood control gate at the site.

"If they want a dam there, that's not a problem," said Mazur, "we want to protect the people of Loon Lake from being flooded, but we want to protect the people downstream."

Roberts prefers to leave the waterways in the control of Mother Nature.

"If you want to live by a lake, you have to put up with that," he said, "sometimes the water is too high, sometimes it's too low."

Community Food Pantry serves up spirit of giving

In 1990, 186 families have benefited from the generosity of Antioch and Lake Villa Tsp. residents through the Community Food Pantry.

The program was set up to help families and individuals experiencing hard times.

"We're sort of an emergency," said Food Pantry Chairwoman Evie Skidmore, "we're not here for the same people every week."

The pantry is staffed by 20 to 25 volunteers, with two volunteers working per week on rotating shifts. The volunteers work to ensure that all the bags are properly made up and that applicants are eligible for aid.

"Basically, they just need to be in need," said Secy. Barbara Goetzelman.

Applicants must provide proof of address to qualify for assistance.

Donations of non-perishable food items, soap and personal care items, diapers and paper products are always welcome.

Individuals wishing to apply for assistance and those wishing to make a donation should first phone the food pantry, 395-1259.

Antioch AARP honored at party

A large crowd of members and guests attended the annual Christmas party of Antioch Area Chapter 387 American Assn. of Retired Persons (AARP) on Dec. 11 at the Country Squire Restaurant, Grayslake. Special guests included Mayor and Mrs. Robert Wilton, Mr. and Mrs. James Fields, Legislative Aide William Snodgras. Pastor Ron Ayers of the Antioch Evangelical Free Church gave the invocation. Mayor Wilton led the group in giving the Pledge of Allegiance to the Flag.

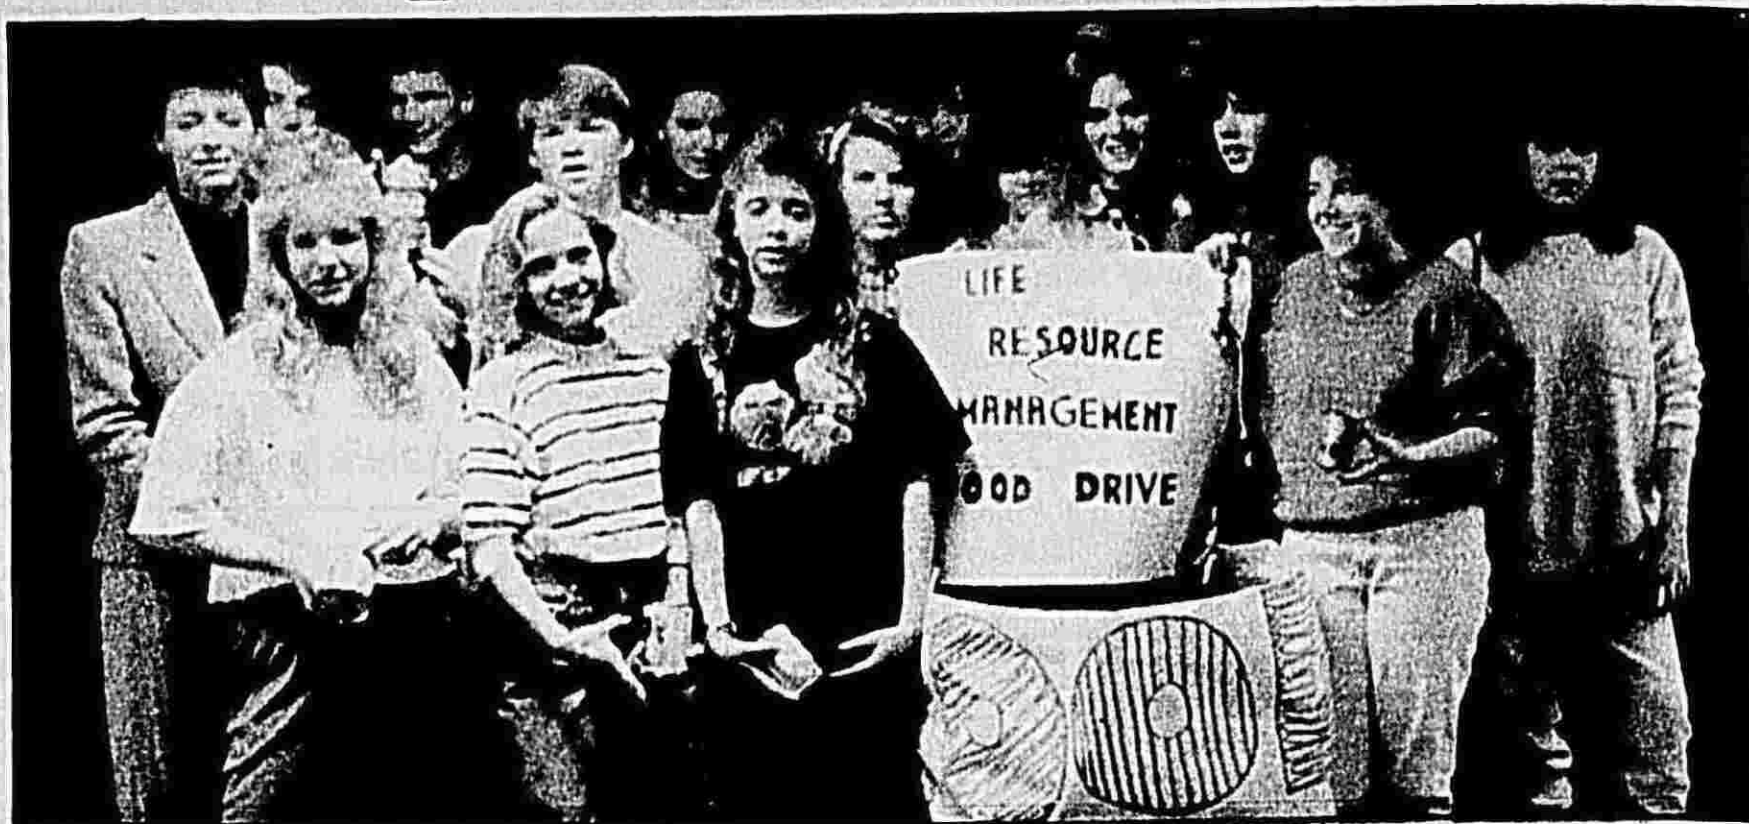

William Snodgras, representing Robert Churchill, presented President Ruth Rynders with a framed Resolution of the 86th General Assembly honoring the Chapter on its 25th anniversary. It was in 1965 that Antioch Area Chapter 387 was organized. John Horan was the first president and there were just 38 members. Today, the chapter has over 200 members and enjoys the reputation of being one of the most active chapters in Lake County.

The program which followed told the story of Christmas as depicted in songs by Joe Yarc, accompanied by Jeanette Paschey, from St. Peter's Church, Antioch. Seminarians, Rich Hall and Rich Beal, from St. Mary's of the Lake Seminary, Mundelein, entertained with guitar music and songs. Rich Beal sang Christmas songs from his native land of Poland. The program concluded with Mayor Wilton and Sam Lombardo lending the entire crowd in a rousing rendition of "Jingle Bells."

Marge LaParr and Grace Ullrich headed the committee responsible for the most successful party.

At the next meeting will be Tuesday, Jan. 8, 1991, Glen Peterson will sell tickets for the Hawaiian Show at the Fireside Theatre, Feb. 3. The meeting will also feature a brown bag day with a bake sale. Members are asked to bring home baked goods for this sale.

Lizard celebrates second anniversary with Lakeland

2nd year memories

Here I go again, and how quickly time flies. Happy Anniversary to me! Yep, people, this month marks the second year I've been writing "Hometown Goodies" and I might add I have been enjoying every minute of it. It surely presents me with the pleasant opportunity of talking with a lot of great people. I'd like to thank everyone who has contacted me with a tidbit or two over the past two years, for without you there would be no "Hometown Goodies." As I did last year, I would like to highlight some of the news items and bloopers I wrote about over the year. Remember, Sally Hiller's drive with her coffee mug on the car roof; Patti Santiemmo capturing that mouse in my red bowl; Grass Lake students enjoyed a performance of AARP All Star Band; the completion of the Grass Lake road bridge; the opening of Nolan's on the Lake; the many accomplishments of nine-year old Patrick Brankin in the Special Olympics; Cyndi VanDrush earned masters degree in reading; Russ Fairchild's recovery from surgery and later his accident; Bob Olenick's 50th birthday celebration and also Don Fechtner's; Cindy Marquart's attempt to take the sample ballot machine into the voting booth; Don Fechtner's colored lip protector; First Antioch annual community garage sale; Lizard "Sweats" at health club; Chris Groh's Muskey catches; Darlene Olenick's 50th birthday celebration; Miss Antioch and Little Miss Antioch beauty contests; the broken toe epidemic; Robin Rey Cook's twin sons; Bertha the dog swims to save her pal Andrew; our kitten, William, gardens with mellowed master; various bingo stories; defeat of the Antioch Park District referendum; my many garage sale adventures; favorite parade reports; Footlights' success and fun; birthday greetings; get well wishes; local school tidbits; etc. I remember it well! Keep it coming, people, and don't forget bloopers are still my favorite thing.

Thank You

The GLS yearbook committee would like to thank the following businesses who have joined the list of patrons who help support the annual student yearbook: Mary Kay Cosmetic (Cathy Milovanovic), Spring Lake Marina & Restaurant (Nancy Dogan), and PSL Insurance Consultants (Anthony Santiemmo).

Award Stickers

The following Grass Lake School junior high students achieved honor roll status for the first quarter grading period. In recognition of this scholastic achievement, parents were given a bumper sticker announcing "Proud Parent of Grass Lake Junior High Honor Student." These bumper stickers were made available through the generosity of Don Grob, who is a parent in the district and also the president of the school board. Congratulations to eighth graders: Justin Bahrs, Beth Boerman, Angela Burke, Heather Burke, Josh Fleming, Jeff

Welcome

As you will soon find out, Jan Harrison, I have my "little birdie" spies on duty everywhere. I understand you are relatively new to the Grass Lake area of ing Kindergarten at Grass Lake School. I would like to officially welcome you and your family to our area, hope you continue feeling at home, and encourage you to contact me with a tidbit or two from time to time. Incidentally, I guarantee you that Brittany is in good hands in Kindergarten under the watchful eyes of TLC of Norma Rubash and Helen Olechney, you can bet on it, and the Lizard never tells a lie.

Morning Gathering

On a recent Saturday, I accompanied a "friend" to an early morning tupperware party. To me 9:30 a.m. is early morning, to you more energetic people that same time may be the middle of your day. However, I was glad I dragged myself from beneath the covers as it gave me the opportunity to chit-chat with some ladies that I haven't seen in a long

I also enjoyed my pleasant conversation with Mary Bielawski. Mary and I use to play volleyball at Grass Lake School mega years ago and she is the same chipper person I enjoyed back then.

It was also fun visiting with Susan Anderson, the Grass Lake School secretary, whose children went to school with my two oldest daughters. The party was at the home of Gayle Milowski who is the fantastic head cook at GLS and her friend and assistant cook, Sandy Gilday, was also there. Sandy's children also attended GLS when my oldest girls did and her pretty daughter, Dawn, has given her two great grandbabies. It was nice seeing all of you and once again I owe Marie Brausam a big thank you for dragging my old bones out of bed. It was fun!

Paul and Fran Adelizzi enjoyed their combined coaching experience they received while coaching the first and second grade girls' iceless hockey team. Fran was a past coach for her older daughters and she said she has never met a nicer group of girls or parents as the ones she worked with this year. This made her and Paul's task that much more enjoyable and easier. In the end the positive efforts of the girls, the coaches, and parents paid off as their team, the Sabres, came in first with a final record of 10 wins, three ties, and only one loss. Paul and Fran are very proud of all the players and would like to personally thank them for their team spirit and a job well done. Nicole Adelizzi, Nicole Astar, Cory Gardell, Erica Gutsafson, Stephanie Kopriva, Krystal Larie, Jill Milani, Aubree Mendel, Sunny Ray, Kelli Schlichting, Jenny Thompson.

New Year's Birthdays

In a couple of days we will not only start a new month, but a new year. I'd like to wish the following people a Happy January Birthday from Lizard and readers, Jacob Gardien, Ronnie Belcher, Adam Hiller, Michael J. Doyle, Kari Fehrenbacher, Chris Groh, Justin Bahrs, Josh Fleming, Rhonda Garwood, Carl Campbell, Mike Campbell, Jenny Brausam, Stacy Smerz, Andrew Schmehl, David LaForge, Amy Hansen, James Mazzuca, Eric Hansen, Lori Christopolus, Jim Haris, Carol Stengel, and Wally Mozal (Mr. Wally).

Realty office helps needy

"Thank you and keep them coming," says Wayne Sobczak of Realty World-Tiffany Real Estate in reference to the donations of gloves, tube socks and non-perishable foods that are being brought in to his two real estate offices. All items are being donated to Public Action to Deliver Shelter (P.A.D.S.) and the food pantry. Donations are being accepted at 549 Lake St., Antioch and 708 W. Rollins Rd., Round Lake Heights.

Seeking contestants

It is again time to begin thinking of Miss Antioch 1991! Ladies interested should be currently holding a permanent Antioch address and they should be between the ages of 17 and 21. The winner will compete at the Lake County Fair.

For one year, Miss Antioch represents the town at several events, which include, the Fourth of July parade and fest, the Lake County Fair, the Lions Club chicken barbecue, Antioch Chamber of Commerce RV and Boat Show.

Athlete of the Week is sponsored by the State Bank of Antioch, which contributes $100 to the Parent/Teacher Scholarship Fund on behalf of the student. From left are Randy Miles of the State Bank, Wisniewski and Coach DeReusse.

The money was used to purchase food at the Jewel Food Store, Antioch, for complete holiday feasts with everything from appetizers to dessert.

The families were selected from referrals by Antioch residents. However, Himer notes that the number of referrals had decreased from last year.

Johnson, defense help 'Hawks'

In basketball, as in life, there is a time for being picky and a time for getting what you can get.

For North Chicago's boys basketball team, the second instance occurred when the Warhawks traveled to Antioch Saturday. In a rugged affair, the Warhawks rallied to down the Sequoits 58-54, for a three-game win streak heading into the Wheeling Christmas tournament.

"I'm a changed man when it comes to winning ugly. Now I'm happy we can get out of here with a win," North Chicago Coach Walter Williams said.

The Warhawks rode the talented play of senior Johnny Johnson to go over .500 in their record at 5-4 overall. The Warhawks evened their North Suburban Conference record at 3-3, while Antioch fell to 1-5.

Johnson started the game with an exclamation point on offense—a slam dunk basket, added a few rebounds and steals in between and helped conclude the scoring with two free throws with :39 left. Johnson, who is headed to the University of Illinois on a football scholarship, would finish with 24 points.

"We turned the tempo up defensively," North Chicago Coach Williams said.

Antioch, which plays at Rockford this weekend, lead by five, 30-25, at halftime, as Dan Mead, who had 11 points, scored on a backdoor basket and Chris Malec added two free throws. Antioch still enjoyed a 34-28 lead when Mike Warren scored two points with 5:47 left in the third.

But then came the uptempo defense, North Chicago style.

A driving layup by David Gardner and a five-footer by Kelvin Scott brought the visitors to even.

The two teams, playing before a small house because as basketball fans turned into last-minute Santa Clauses, were tired at 40-40 after three.

"We missed a bunch of good shots in the beginning of the third quarter and that really hurt. They were wide-open shots. Johnson is their top gun; we could not control their speed," Antioch Coach Jeff Dresser said.

North Chicago double teamed Antioch's person with the ball in the second half.

Senior Ransley Denton scored six points for the contest, all coming in the final stanza.

Ignoring job facts

Illinois is doing right well in creating new jobs. Non-agricultural employment in the state increased 329,000 jobs, or nearly seven percent, during the 1980-89 decade. That's the good news.

The bad news is that there has been a decline in higher-paying jobs, due largely to the precipitous drop in manufacturing employment. According to figures supplied by the state, between 1980 and 1989, Illinois lost 227,000 manufacturing jobs, which is 19 percent below the figures for 1980. Illinois employed 981,000 persons in manufacturing in 1989, last year figures were available.

The significant shift in the job mix is having some profound political implications; there are less people with the kind of higher paying jobs that support homeownership. Politicians who refuse to recognize that more reliance has to be put on income taxes for public funding, particularly the schools, simply are ignoring the facts.

Confusing opposition

Timidity and outright opposition on the part of municipal officials isn't going to make it any easier for the Lake County Solid Waste Agency to begin doing business in 1991.

At the same time it voted to become a member, Mundelein flatly objected to incineration, one of the methods of disposal recommended by the citizens committee that brought the Solid Waste Agency into being.

We're not sure exactly what Mundelein officials were trying to say in voicing opposition to incineration, a stand that is not binding. With landfill space disappearing rapidly here and elsewhere, it seems incredulous if the Mundelein board was promoting landfilling as the only way to go.

Obviously, the Solid Waste Agency is going to have a lot of public education work to do beside burying garbage. Recycling, as one disposal means urged by the citizens committee, has its limitations. There also seems to be some grave misunderstanding about incineration, which has been proven to be effective, notwithstanding more costly than landfilling.

All along, we thought siting would be the big hurdle facing incineration in Lake County. Now some of the old cost and environmental bugaboos appear to be surfacing again. The Solid Waste Agency is going to have a big enough job getting rid of waste, let alone conducting school on the side.

Politically Speaking

Traditionally, this is the time of the year to make New Year's resolutions. Some will, some won't. After all, it is kind of old fashioned. Those that do often can't keep them beyond the first quarter of the Rose Bowl game. So, for those who don't or won't make resolutions, here's for them. Happy 1991!

Andrea S. Moore of Libertyville, president of Forest Preserve Dist.—More of a genuine concern for the environment rather than a political one in her quest to become County Board chairman.

Lake County Clerk Linda Hess—Recognition by Republicans that this Democrat is doing a great job.

State Rep. Grace Mary Stern (D-Highland Park)—Another year of doing her usually good job for constituents.

Colin Thacker, Environmental Health director for Lake County Health Dept.—Recognition by builders and developers that his ideas about improving the health of rural Lake County aren't so bad.

Martin Galanta, superintendent of Lake County Public Works Dept.—Sewer plans and solutions that don't rile the NIMBYs (Not in my back yard).

Bill Barron—Assistant Lake County Administrator—Confirmation as first director of new Lake County Solid Waste Planning Agency he has been working on for more than one year.

Robert Streicher, Lake County Building and Zoning Director—An early retirement, which he so richly deserves.

Marvin Smith, Grayslake Mayor—More condensed village board meetings with a record of accomplishment.

James Keagle, Mayor of Wauconda—Election of more people in April who think like he does.

William Whitely, Wauconda Republican Precinct Committee man—Another stab at trying to meld the township GOP party.

Alberta "Bertie" Miller, Grant Twp. Supervisor—One more year of being the highest-paid supervisor outside of Waukegan.

Rodney Rockenbach, Grayslake Fire Chief and Avon Twp. Trustee—No more political fires to put out or burn (Like Norm Geary).

Ralph Swank, Libertyville Twp. Supv.—More compassion for the indigent, homeless and newspaper columnists.

Kathy Kane, Lindenhurst Village Clerk—Somebody in the village hall to say, "Kathy, you're doing a terrific job."

Frank Thomas, Warren Twp. Highway Comm.—No more knocked-down mail boxes of ranking township officials that must be put back in place.

Needy remembered in villages where plenty abounds

by BILL SCHROEDER

In a land of plenty, there is need. Great need. Yet there is sharing in both big and small amounts. Is there enough to go around? Probably not. No one seems to know for sure. Yet the stories of giving abound at this holiday season and it is heart-warming to know that we live in a community that cares.

The giving and sharing is not surprising in Lake County where demographers argue whether we are the nation's fifth or sixth richest county in the U.S. What is astounding are the examples of poverty and need amid such riches.

To be sure, the gifts of food and clothing at Christmastime are not going to be wasted. Unfortunate families amongst us had a brighter holiday because there are still people in abundance who care and share.

Students from Stevenson High School Dist. in Vernon Township, one of Lake County's wealthiest districts, found 25 families in their midst to help at Christmas. In Lake Forest, known far and wide for its affluence, the library earmarked all December fine money for "Food for Fines" to help the needy in Shields Township.

In the opposite corner of the county, Grant Township officials organized the gathering of food for needy families and delivered brimming baskets, each topped off by a turkey or a ham, to 165 households, 15 more than last year.

In Libertyville, township officials organized an "Adopt a Family" program. Twenty-five fortunate families supplied 25 unfortunate families with food and gifts Dec. 25. The township food pantry was open for the needy in Libertyville and Mundelein where the St. Vincent DePaul Society of Santa Maria del Popolo Church provided for 25 families.

In Antioch, churches, civic clubs, the Lions, veterans' organizations and others each attended to the needs of families they knew would have a meager Yule without the generosity of others.

The Grayslake Lions Club with support from high school students delivered 76 food baskets which they calculated served 325 persons for dinner Christmas day with plenty of leftovers. The Grayslake Exchange Club donated $500 to the Wildwood Food Pantry located at Wildwood Presbyterian Church where more than 20 families were helped. Township officials in Warren and Avon townships made sure food pantries were well stocked before Christmas.

In Park City, 65 food baskets were distributed by the park and recreation board. In North Chicago, members of Christmas to scare away the protesting atheists.

Pat Uriarte, Libertyville Twp. GOP Chairman—Another year of political independence from the Republican machine.

Howard Bieze, Wauconda Twp. Republican luminary—Successful August corn and bratwurst roast to surpass last year's.

Barbara Behm, Fremont Twp. Supv.—Time to cope with the growth sweeping her domain.

Dennis Abbott, Lake Zurich Fire Protection Dist. President—No more political fires to douse and end to controversy surrounding his 3-1/2-year tenure.

William Swanson, Libertyville Twp. Assessor—Ticklish township assessments as easy to call as controver-Hillcrest Baptist Church didn't start their own family Christmas celebrations, until the homeless were fed.

From township food supplies, 80 baskets for the needy were prepared for distribution in the Lindenhurst-Lake Villa area. Wauconda Twp. provided 25 baskets. In Island Lake, the Lions Club distributed 20 baskets.

Nearly 20 organizations combined in Elia Twp. to deliver food to needy families in the Lake Zurich area.

Members of the Round Lake Beach Fraternal Order of Police joined with Calvary Presbyterian Church to assemble 73 food baskets. Students at Round Lake Unit School baked cookies and made gifts for nearly 400 elderly persons. The Round Lake Park, Pre-School adopted seven families to provide food and toys.

The outpouring of Yuletide spirit brightened the holidays for countless others. All of us can be proud that we live in a community where unfortunates are remembered. When all was said and done, Christmas 1990 was merry for just about everyone in this locality.

VISITING—Purdue University's second best known resident is spending the holidays at the Schroeder residence. Everyone concedes that head basketball Coach Gene Keady is Purdue's most recognizable citizen. Second place might be a toss up, but until a challenger comes along, we'll award the spot to Thedog, the Sigma Chi fraternity house dog. Thed, a bushy-tailed Sheltie-Golden Retriever mix, has an impish manner and winning ways that melt your heart on first meeting. The Sigs call Thed their "chick magnet" because coeds fall in love with him instantly. The blur of golden fur also works his charms on all ages. After a hectic fall semester and final exams, Thed took a few days to adjust to a household with only a few people rather than 75 guys. But he's relaxing—I guess college students call it "chilling out"—and enjoying explorations of the woods in back of our house. Oh yes, Thed got acquainted with the girl next door, Lilly, a beautiful Golden Lab. He might not want to go back to West Lafayette.

ONE MAN'S FAMILY—The needles are falling rapidly off pop's personally selected Christmas tree so the holidays likely will close earlier than usual. That's OK. We're anxious to start 1991. Happy New Year!

Joanne Linker is in funny kind of business

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Joanne Linker has been mixed up in a lot of funny business for the last six years and she loves it more than ever.

She and a silent partner are the proud owners of J. J. Blinkers, a novelty and party shop on Main St. in Antioch.

"This was something I had always wanted to do and when my partner offered to go into business with me, I jumped at the chance," says Linker.

"It's better than I ever thought it could be. It seems many people have lots of occasions that call for silly gifts that they can't find just everywhere," she adds.

J. J. Blinkers sells all kinds of fun things, ranging from joke gifts to collector Emmet Kelly, Jr. clown statues. The namesake himself has appeared at Blinkers twice to autograph some of these collectables.

"We sell a lot of 'Over the Hill' gifts and decorations all year round besides gifts for bachelor and bachelorette parties, gag gifts for fishermen and golfers and also lots of unusual cards and party decorations," she adds.

A putter that can be broken in half by a frustrated golfer is one of her most popular items, as is an alarm clock that plays "Revellie," and tells its owner to "get up" is one of her more practical gifts.

Unlike retail stores across the nation who are bemoaning a low Christmas buying volume, Linker says, "Christmas has been great so far."

Maybe people in northern Lake County are just more fun than other places. Experts are saying that the fact that luxury items are selling less and practical ones more confirms talk about a recession.

novelty underwear and some games with slightly risqué titles not classed under PG/13.

With the biggest party night of the year almost upon us, Linker is ready with a complete stock of balloons, party hats, horns, foil tiaras, etc. to help customers do right by 1991's big entrance.

Foot coasters that look like two feet for those who have the habit of putting their feet on the coffee table are among her sales leaders as are the dancing Christmas trees.

"We have been growing steadily and our inventory keeps expanding," says Linker adding that one of her favorite moments came when she was at a wedding a distance from the Antioch area and met someone who had been in her store and loved it.

In the last few years she has expanded to the store next door where she has located her paper party paraphernalia.

Linker has just finished serving three years as the president of the Antioch Chamber of Commerce and Industry helping to promote her town and her business.

Lake County dubbed as 'Healthy Valley' by study

While California may boast about "Silicon Valley" due to the concentration of computer companies, Lake County can say it is "Healthy Valley".

According to a recent study completed by the Lake County Economic Development Commission there is a greater percentage of health industry related employment here than in most other Standard Metropolitan Statistical Areas (SMSA). In fact, about one of every nine Lake County employees works in a health related industry.

Although the majority of these employees work for Abbott Laboratories or Baxter International, thousands of others work for the dozens of smaller health firms which have either been spun off these two multi-national corporations or moved here because of the availability of science oriented people in the work force, from assembly and clerical workers to PhD's.

Some 18,167 health workers make up 10.6 percent of the 170,865 member labor force in Lake County. Although in sheer numbers Los Angeles nudges out Lake County, their health jobs count for only 2.08 percent of the total work force numbering over 3.5 million.

EDC Chairman James Wilnot said, "This study, completed by Senior Planner Mike O'Shea, allows us to better focus our marketing direction. Health care continues to be one of the fastest growing fields in the world. Knowing that it is growing here at such a rapid pace greatly encourages us." There has been a 130 percent increase in health care related jobs in the county in the past ten years.

O'Shea used data from the 1987 County Business Patterns which incorporates Standard Industrial Classification codes to break manufacturing and wholesale trade employment totals into areas of drugs, x-ray equipment, engineering and scientific instruments, medical instruments and supplies, and ophthalmic goods.

The Economic Development Commission, appointed by the Lake County Board, is an organization of thirty-five business and civic leaders whose role is to attract and retain employers and broaden the county's tax base.

Water park planned for Fox Lake district

A Wheeling developer wants to build the largest water recreation area in northern Illinois in northwest Lake County.

Arthur R. Olson, a partner in a land surveying firm, is seeking permission from the Village of Fox Lake to develop a water park off the shores of Dunn's Lake near Vacation Village, a complex of weekend condominiums located at State Park and Grass Lake Rds.

The 75 acre site, home for Fox Lake Water World, also would have space for 14 three-quarter acre lots for single family residences, according to Olson, who plans on working on the project in 1991 intending to open for the 1992 season.

"This is going to be a family place. There will be picnic areas and concession facilities besides a water slide, a flume ride, wading pools and a wave pond," Olson told village officials.

The site presently is zoned R-3 residential. Olson said he will need a combination of R-1 residential and B-4 business zoning.

Olson displayed a drawing that has a parking lot for 500 to 600 cars. The business would operate June, July and August. The nearby homes will be screened from the water park by a 20 foot high landscaped berm, Olson stated.

Mayor Frank Meier told Olson, "You have my backing 100 percent."

Belvidere.

The jury of architects and school administrators conducted a "blind" evaluation of all projects submitted for the Educational Environments Exhibition and selected winners. The winners were selected based on innovative design solutions to problems encountered in school construction and renovation.

Mental/Nervous disorders changes insurance environment

by D.N. CRAMPTON

Within the past six months or so, it has become increasingly evident that mental and nervous disorders have supplanted cardiovascular/renal disease as the chief cause of claims under individual disability income contracts.

This trend is not limited to a small number of disability insurers, though it does not apply to every one of the major writers of long term disability income coverage.

There are approximately 120 companies that market individual disability contracts. The range of disability coverages is considerable; some are quite restrictive, others (especially those marketed to professionals and high earning executives) provide very high limits and relatively easy access to benefits.

The increasing incidence of mental and nervous disabilities, particularly when added to already higher than anticipated claims for physical ailments, offer the prospect of a very different environment in the years ahead.

No pot of gold

Once the proverbial "pot of gold" for insurance companies, disability income profits, which began the last decade at 12.1 percent of aggregate premiums, had, by 1989, actually produced a loss of 3.7 percent of premiums.

According to actuary David Scarlett in a recent address to the Life Insurance Marketing and Research Assn. in Washington earlier this month, this dramatic decline in profits came despite a 35 percent increase in company investment returns on disability premiums during the same period.

The difference may be found in the incidence and severity of claims, especially the mental and nervous claims which are difficult to assess and, ultimately, resolve. Regional irregularities in these kinds of claims has also been noted, with California harboring a stunningly disproportionate number of disability claimants, especially those claiming mental and nervous disabilities.

Indeed, claims cost in the state are currently running at twice what they were originally priced for. I know of at least one principal disability insurer which will be shortly introducing regional pricing of its products to counter this trend.

Intense pressure

Those who are considering the purchase of individual disability income insurance had better hop to it. Some carriers, under intense profit pressure, will discontinue offering such coverage. Premiums will be increasing. Large coverage amounts, even for high earners, will be more difficult to obtain. Claims, the central cause of all of these problems, will in many more instances be more tightly adjudicated and controlled.

Despite all of these ominous trends, quality carriers will still offer quality products which will be fairly administered in the event of claim. There will be no effort on the part of front line carriers to deny or limit legitimate claims of any kind. It just may be more difficult to get the coverage in the first place.

Test your automobile awareness with this cold-weather car quiz

In the spirit of the winter season, here's a true/false quiz to test your auto awareness.

1. For better traction on ice or snow, "bleed" air from your tires. (T) or (F).
2. Headlight aiming is unnecessary with the new halogen lights. (T) or (F).
3. When the alternator warning light goes on it could indicate your car needs a new drive belt. (T) or (F).
4. The average size automobile engine develops enough heat to keep a five room house comfortably warm during zero degree weather. (T) or (F).

5. When windshield wipers smear the glass they should be cleaned off and coated with mineral oil. (T) or (F).

6. A squealing noise when you apply the brakes is not necessarily a sign that they need to be relined. (T) or (F).

7. One misfiring spark plug can affect gas mileage by as much as 25 percent. (T) or (F).

8. A thumping sound from the front of the car usually comes from a bad tire. (T) or (F).

9. When filling in the gas tank in cold weather it's best to fill the tank to the top of the filler neck, just short of overflowing. (T) or (F).

10. The CV joints on a front wheel drive car never should wear out under normal driving conditions. (T) or (F).

ANSWERS

1. False. Maximum tread contact and, therefore, best traction is achieved with properly inflated tires.

2. False. Any type of headlights can go out of adjustment due to vibration or body damage.

3. True. Worn or improperly adjusted drive belt can slip on its pulley, causing low output from the alternator.

4. True. Metal temperatures inside the engine can reach 1,000 degrees Fahrenheit. Excess heat is dissipated off by the cooling system.

5. False. Keeping windshield wiper blades clean will improve their wiping ability, but stop right there. A film of wax or oil on the windshield or windshield wiper blades will cause smearing. Clean the edge of the blade and the glass with windshield washer solvent or a mild detergent. If wiper still smears, replace the blade.

6. True. New semi-metallic brake linings tend to be noisy. However, if you're uncertain about the condition of your brake lining and pads, have them checked. The noise could be a signal that you're due for a brake job.

7. True. On a four cylinder engine, when one spark plug isn't firing, the fuel in that cylinder is wasted.

8. True. The thump can come from a flat spot or from a lump on the tire. Flat spots usually are caused by improper wheel balance or alignment. A blister or bulge may be due to tread separation, a potentially dangerous condition.

9. False. Overfilling the gas tank can cause raw fuel to enter the vapor recovery line which leads to the engine. This can result in hard starting and erratic operation until that fuel is burned off.

10. False. Although they can last much longer, CV (constant velocity) joints normally need replacement between 75,000 and 100,000 miles. Connecting the transmission to the wheels on a front wheel drive car, these flexible joints are covered with rubber boots to keep grease in and road dirt out. Failure of the boots is the most common reason for damage to CV joints.

SCORING: 9 to 10 right is excellent; 7 to 9 is passing; below that, brush up on car care.

Alternative fuels preferable to unrealistic tailpipe standards

Alternative-fuel vehicles may provide a workable approach to auto emission problems if scientific, technical and marketing issues can be resolved.

That's the opinion of the Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Assn. of the United States, Inc., which says methanol, reformulated gasoline and other alternative fuels could be a better way to improve air quality than some of the unrealistically tight new tailpipe standards proposed as amendments to the Clean Air Act.

Fred W. Bowditch, MVMA President of Technical Affairs, says "some of the proposed standards not only exceed the technical capability of the industry, but also would require extensive resource commitments and provide very little incremental air quality benefits."

Bowditch adds that any legislation mandating alternative-fuel vehicles should:

- Set performance standards at reasonable levels and assure that reformulated gasoline is fairly evaluated as a "clean" alternative fuel.
- Require governments to offer consumer incentives to encourage the purchase of alternative-fuel vehicles.
- Provide sufficient lead time for high-volume production requirements after public hearings on the scientific, technical and marketing questions, and
- Measure manufacturer's compliance on production capability, instead of specific sales goals.

Sales quotas are unworkable, explains Bowditch, because of unresolved marketing issues including customer acceptance of alternative-fuel vehicles and the price and availability of alternative fuels.

Methanol vehicles, he adds, are part of on-going demonstration projects by manufacturers in search of solutions to such technical problems as cold weather performance, the durability of fuel and emission systems, and the control of aldehyde emissions.

"But given these factors," says Bowditch, "it is unlikely that manufacturers will be able to control the number of vehicles they are able to sell."

MVMA favors joint industry-government research on outstanding scientific issues including the effects of alternative-fuel vehicles on global warming and air quality.

Facts And Figures

Proper car care can save you money at the gas station. Inflating your tires properly can save up to five percent in fuel consumption, and your tires will last longer, too. Replacing a faulty thermostat and getting regular tune-ups will also improve gas mileage.

Federal law requires automobile manufacturers to average 26.5 miles per gallon of gasoline for new models. The Motor Vehicle Manufacturers Assn. reports domestic cars averaged 26.9 miles per gallon in 1989.

Rob Reiner, better known as "Meatball" in "All In the Family" for many years, has grown into one of the film industry's most off-beat and best directors.

His holiday offering is Stephen King's chilling story "Misery."

This is a good flick by virtue of the excellent performances of its two leading players, James Caan and Kathy Bates, but it falls short of Reiner's previous efforts.

"Misery" tells the creepy tale of world famous writer being held in captivity in the Colorado mountains by his obsessive No. One fan.

Bates turns in an award-winning performance as the demented nurse who keeps Caan prisoner until she approves of the romance novel he is writing.

This movie is hurt by the addition of hackneyed horror happenings. We give it three stars out of five on the basis of the lead performances.

Kathy Bates, James Caan

the emotional trauma that follows. Eileen Buchanan directs the production which features Marjorie Engesser, Chuck Crowley, Brad Davidson and Shawn Fitzgerald.

Ann arrives home late one evening and is seized by a man in a ski mask who forces her to take him into her apartment. Once there he rapes her. After she rips off his mask, the rapist threatens to kill her.

Controlling her fear and loathing, Ann appeals to the rapist's vanity and manages to flee into the hands of two police officers who are patrolling outside her apartment.

But the ordeal is not over. Ann must exorcise the shock and repugnance with which she now relates to men in general. "...a play that provokes discussions, thought, soul searching, even argument," says Mike Steele of the Minneapolis Tribune.

Christmas shopping '90s style, was it all really worth it?

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

The Christmas shopping rush is over, the garbage bags full of crumpled gift wrappings are stacked outside, and the presents are put away.

After getting over the shock of the totals we expect to find on January's charge cards, we might ask ourselves, "was it all worth it for those few minutes of flying

When I think about it

tissue, ohs and ahs and murmured thank yous?"

Christmas shopping used to be fun, rushing from store to store to choose special gifts for loved ones with Christmas carols playing from an unseen loudspeaker as the snowflakes gently jeweled your clothing.

Clerks used to be so accommodating, always remembering to wish their customers a "Happy holiday after offering them some hot chocolate and cookies."

Now shoppers are lucky to find a clerk. With many people doffing their coats in the malls, and salespeople having a lack of uniform dressing, one sometimes goes through four or five customers in the quest of someone who knows anything about the merchandise in certain departments.

When you finally succeed in finding a store employee, they turn out to be little more than a cashier trained to take your money and run.

There are times we feel most of these so called salespeople would fail to answer correctly when asked what store they were working in.

We were in one well-known department store and purchased a crystal basket in the gift department that carried a healthy price tag.

The salesgirl promptly took our money, dropped the crystal basket into a plastic bag and handed it to us.

The look on her face when we asked, nay finally demanded, a gift box, was at first puzzled, and then irate that she should be asked to do anymore for a sale that had already been consummated by the cash register.

It took approximately one hour, contact with the store manager, and then a long wait in the gift box line three floors and several departments away to finally get a box that was much too big for the item. We took it because it was better than nothing.

And don't you love it when you purchase a large home furnishing item that comes in a zillion pieces in a flat box about a foot high, filled with items that it would take a master carpenter hours to put together?

For this we are paying twice the price that used to be charged for the item in one piece, fully constructed.

Taking something back for a refund is an even worse experience, with most stores insisting on sending you a check in the mail.

This eliminates any plans to immediately purchase a replacement for those purple polka-dotted pedal pushers your crazy aunt gave you, if the store in question has nothing you want.

There are times we feel most of these so called salespeople would fail to answer correctly when asked what store they were working in.

But we did come across a little silver lining in these clouds of Christmas shopping cheerlessness.

While picking up a large item from the catalog department, the sales clerk actually smiled when she called our number.

When she brought the item out in a tan packing box, she herself (believe it or not) suggested that we might want a nice gift box and quickly proceeded to hunt one up.

Then to compound the shock, noticing the size of the item, she said, "If you still have shopping to do, that's much to big to lug around the mall. Why not let me send it to will call and you'll be able to pick it up on your way out of the mall."

Reeling and dazed, we then heard her say,

"Thanks so much and have a Merry Christmas."

Where did this creature from outer space come from?

We noticed that she was in her 60s and finally decided that she had been in retail since the days of the customer being of some importance and nobody had slipped her the news "That them days are gone forever."

Since this is one of the few decent salespersons we've come across in a long time, and don't expect a repeat in the near future, we are planning to start watching the tv shopping channels in March and do next year's Christmas shopping that way where we only have the man from United Parcel to deal with besides the collection agencies that will be dunning us because we have lost our heads while shopping in comfort and gone crazy with those little plastic squares.

Lake County girl enjoys Miss Ill.- USA contest

by GLORIA DAVIS
Lakeland Newspapers

Brenda Blazek, Barrington, daughter of Marilyn and Harold Blazek, owners of Blazek Home Furnishings in Lake Zurich, has experienced her first beauty pageant, and now that all of the "horror" stories failed to materialize, she's anxious to do it again.

For the first time out, Brenda went first class, after being urged by family and friends, she filled out the application for the Miss Illinois USA Pageant last summer.

The ultimate winner of this pageant will be Miss Illinois and go on to the Miss USA and Miss Universes contests.

After deciding to do it, Brenda, who is a sophomore majoring in journalism at Western Ill. University in Macomb, set out to get enough sponsors for her $850 entry fee. She was so successful here that the sponsors also paid for her ball gown.

"My mom and dad were very supportive, but they left the decisions up to me," said Brenda.

She and her entire family arrived at the Woodfield Hilton on Friday, Nov. 22, and things began to happen immediately, with the state costume competition taking place that evening.

Brenda's state costume was the "Hamburglar" from McDonald's, one of her sponsors.

Then the weekend full of one rehearsal after another began.

With 128 girls competing, this was a lengthy process, as was the personal interview conducted by a panel of judges on Saturday, then more rehearsals and the bathing suit and evening gown competition.

Blazek — 'My parents were supportive, but they left the decisions up to me.'

The pageant ended the next afternoon after the 15 finalists were chosen and ultimately the winner, Lisa Morgan of Inverness.

Although she wasn't one of the finalists, Brenda said "I had a great time from the first minute. All the girls were wonderful and there was no sign of the bitter competitiveness and favoritism one often hears about."

Bluegrass comes to Woodstock

Bluegrass music is now over 40 years old, and it has become clear that within the music there are only a small handful of major stylists. Larry Sparks is one of the few who have created a style while remaining true to the best traditions of bluegrass.

He began his career at the top of his profession when he joined the Stanley Brothers in 1964, taking the place of legendary guitarist George Shuffler. He worked with the Stanley Brothers show off an on for the next two years, playing lead guitar and singing an occasional baritone part in some of the trios.

Following the death of Carter Stanley in December of 1966, Sparks assumed the role of lead singer and guitarist with the Clinch Mountain Boys. In 1969 Sparks felt it was time to lead his own group, and left the Clinch Mountain Boys to form his own band, the Lonesome Ramblers.

Sparks began to develop his own distinctive sound, which was built around his soulful lead singing and bluesy guitar work, an infectious combination that quickly caught on with bluegrass fans.

He will appear at the Woodstock Opera House, at 6 p.m. on Sunday, Jan. 6, 1991. Reserved seats are $12.

In Jamaica Everything Is "No Problem, Mon"

by JIM WARNKEN
PRESIDENT, NORTH STAR TRAVEL, INC.

Ian Fleming created agent 007 here. In fact, Dr. No was filmed in Jamaica. Both Tom Cruise and Robin Williams appeared in movies made in Jamaica. Errol Flynn created river rafting here. His wife still lives in Jamaica. Ralph Lauren and Johnny Cash also have homes here. Harry Belafonte sang about the "Tallyman" in Jamaica.

Isn't it about time you visited this friendly Caribbean vacation paradise?

Most likely you will be staying on Jamaica's North Shore. That's where you will find Jamaica's miles of white sand beaches and some of the finest resorts in the world.

Let's first talk about Jamaica's resorts and then I'll briefly discuss the three main cities on the North Shore.

In Jamaica, unlike many other vacation destinations, the action is at the resorts. Nightlife, restaurants and much of your shopping is there rather than in town. While there are some public beaches, the best beaches are also at the resorts. You will find that much, if not all your time will be spent at your resort. You will want to choose your accommodations with this in mind, rather than just thinking of your hotel as a place to sleep.

You might consider one of Jamaica's "all inclusive" resorts. Unlike other so called "all inclusive" that may just include meals and a room, a stay at a Jamaican all inclusive resort assures you will not spend another dime on your vacation. Your airfare, room, drinks, water-sports (including SCUBA diving, water skiing, etc.), entertainment, all tips and even cigarettes are included in the package price.

Briefly, there are three main resort areas on the North Shore. Negril is for those who really want to get away from it all or are looking for an "anything goes" atmosphere. (Some of it's seven miles of beach are posted "swimsuits optional.") Montego Bay has some of the more reasonable resorts. The airport is also here so you avoid a long bus ride. However, except for Seawinds on the budget end and Sandals on the high side, Montego Bay lacks any really spectacular beaches. Ocho Rios, being an ocean port offers a little more in the way of shopping and activities outside your resort.

Leon Redbone to appear at Woodstock Opera House

Leon Redbone, eclectic musician, and the mysterious/reclusive man behind sunglasses and wearing a white Panama Hat, will present two concerts at the Woodstock Opera House on Saturday, March 30, 1991. The show times are 6 and 9 p.m.

Redbone, is a uniquely creative entertainer who, almost restores, revives and revitalizes our musical heritage. He presents his interpretation and American music, from the turn of the century through the 1940's, with reverence and respect Redbone infuses new life into the material through his skill as a singer, guitarist, and master of evocation.

For most of America, Redbone gained recognition and some notoriety through his appearances in 1976 and 1977 on the NBC Television show, "Saturday Night Live." He is also heard in a very contemporary setting, he performs the music and the voice over for many radio and television commercials.

A Redbone concert is a refreshing, funny, enjoyable experience. He appears trim and well tailored, his voice greets the audience with warm/dark/rich and molasses tones, and his guitar playing understates and emphasizes the changing moods and rhythms of each song. Some of Redbone's more popular recordings are, "I Want To Be Seduced," "Hand Me Down My Walkin' Cane," and "Harvest Moon."

Tickets for each show are priced at $14 and are on sale at the Woodstock Opera House box office. For tickets or more information call (815)338-5300.

New Year's fetes set

The biggest party night of the year, New Year's Eve, is almost upon us.

Many fine restaurants in the area are planning special New Year's bashes.

With a safe New Year's in mind, Kristoff's in Round Lake is offering free juices and soda pop to all designated drivers along with a $40 per couple buffet and Scotch doubles bowling evening.

At the Country Squire in Grayslake, there will be two New Year's celebrations: one in the Sears Mansion to the sounds of a deejay that starts at 9 p.m.; the other in the main restaurant that will run to live music with cocktails at 8 p.m. and dinner at 9 p.m. For $55 a person there's unlimited drinks, wine with dinner, a midnight champagne toast and party hats and noisemakers.

Andres Steak House in Richmond has an overnight package which includes accommodations at the Days Inn next door. Party time alone is $85 a couple with dinner, liquor etc.

The New Year's baby will appear on roller skates at the bash at Blue Suede Shoes in Park City with a $10 advance required for guaranteed seating.

Mentone's in Antioch is offering live entertainment, dinner, an Italian dessert table, breakfast at 1:30 a.m. and two hours of open bar for $90 a couple.

'Closer' serendipitous

by TOM WITOM
"Closer Than Ever," a serendipitous 21-song production playing through Jan. 6 at Highland Park's Apple Tree Theater, is a musical for our time.

Its four tireless and talented cast members, backed up superbly by a pianist and bass player, bare their souls through the touching, often catchy, lyrics of Richard Maltby Jr.

Along the way they shed their invisible armor as they express feelings about needing someone special in their lives rather than just another friend, reminisce about the inner longings borne by even the most stalwart of mates and fret over the here-and-now versus the nebulous possibilities held by some uncertain future.

Well-crafted songs highlight the difficulties of two-income families (Who's going to watch baby when both parents must go dashing off to argue that all-important case or close that big real estate deal?) and the sometimes bittersweetness of starting over in a second marriage.

The styles vary, too, from straight ballads to a touch of country western and an especially fine jazz number, "Back on Base."

Kudos to Kathy Santen, Jim Bract, Dave Studwell and Cathy Lord—plus pianist Jeff Lewis (musical director) and bassist Marc Hogan.

"Closer Than Ever" appears destined for a return engagement at some other Chicago-area venue.

Affordable home plans due Jan. 9

Wednesday, Jan. 9 the production sub-committee of the Lake County Task Force on Affordable Housing will begin reviewing plans for a prototype "affordable" house.

The house will be no larger than 1,600 square feet.

"We want to fashion a generic plan that will fit any community," declared Jeff Pickus, Waukegan builder who heads the Task Force.

Once a prototype is selected, the committee will analyze all costs and fees going into construction.

A decision to seek a prototype plan was one of the highlights of the monthly Task Force meeting at Libertyville where Marita Mazatis-Stricklin, chairperson of the planning sub-committee reported that studies are in progress on where the income producing jobs are located in the county in order to "match" housing with jobs.

Diane Pilibosian, finance sub-committee chairperson, said the goal of her committee is to develop a model financing plan.

The Task Force was organized by the Lake County Board and is charged with producing a report by September.

Pickus said a second Task Force might be responsible for implementing recommendations of the current Task Force. "We can use county governmental to open doors to utilize our product," Pickus stated.

Depke appoints committee members

Lake County Board Chairman Robert Depke recently appointed chairmen, vice chairmen and members to eight county committees. The new committee line up includes:

•Financial and Administrative: Chairman Dolan and Vice Chairman Dist. 3 Rep. Robert Neal of Wadsworth, members Dist. 1 Reps. Robert Buhai of Highland Park and Schade, Dist. 2 Reps. Audrey Nixon of North Chicago and Angelo Kyle of Waukegan, Dist. 5 Reps. Moore and Colin McRae of Mundelein and O'Reilly.

•Management Services, Taxation and Election: Chairman Grever and Vice chairman O'Reilly. Members Dist. 3 Reps. Eleanor Rostron of Beach Park and James LaBelle of Zion, Dist. 4 Rep. Suzi Schmidt of Lake Villa and Dolan.

•Public Service: Chairman Dist. 1 Rep. Donald Strenger of Lake Forest and Vice chairman McRae. Members Dist. 3 Reps. Neal and Bertha Ogrin of Waukegan, Dist. 4 Reps. Charlotte Kiesgen of Fox Lake and James Fields of Antioch, and Dist. 6 Rep. C. Richard Anderson of North Barrington.

•Planning and Zoning: Chairman Rostron and Vice chairman Schade. Members Dist. 1 Rep. Deloris Axelrod of Highland Park, Buhai, Kyle, Grever and McRae.

•Law and Judicial: Chairman Kiesgen and Vice chairman Nixon. Members Axelrod, Dist. 2 Rep. Stanley Pekol of Waukegan, Dist. 4 Rep. Larry Leafblad of Grayslake, Dist. 5 Rep. Carol Calabrese of Libertyville and Anderson.

Forest Hospital announces outpatient substance abuse program

An extensive outpatient drug and alcohol abuse recovery program that allows adolescents an opportunity to continue in school during treatment recently was announced by Forest Hospital's Outpatient Clinic.

Adolescent Countdown to Recovery is a 14-month dual diagnosis treatment program designed for high school-aged adolescents. Structured in five phases to coincide with the evolution of chemical abuse/dependence treatment, the program features comprehensive family involvement, as well as group and individual therapy.

Patterned after the Forest Hospital adult Countdown to Recovery, the program was designed so that patients can continue with scholastic and family activities throughout treatment.

For more information on the Forest Hospital Adolescent Countdown to Recovery program, contact Margo Reiner at (708)635-4100, ext. 225.

County convention bureau sends delegate to London

Gail Svendsen, president/CEO of the Lake County, Illinois Convention & Visitor's Bureau, was among a delegation of 30 Illinois representatives who show cased Illinois at the World Travel Market in London, England, one of the largest tour and travel shows in the world, Nov. 26 through Dec. 3. This marks the sixth year that Illinois has participated, and the second year the State of Illinois has organized statewide convention bureaus, hoteliers, and tourism related officials to sell Illinois cooperatively. The Illinois Department of Commerce and Community Affairs (DCCA) lead the delegation. 1989's delegation generated 500 leads which will increase as Illinois grows in stature as a tourism destination. As the state's most famous citizen, Abe Lincoln, albeit a 1990 lookalike, was on hand to meet the press and trade and tourism officials. Steven D. McClure, DCCA director, said "The World Travel Market presents an opportunity to illustrate that Illinois is a tourism destination for world travelers. Tourism is one of Illinois' top priorities for economic development."

While at the World Travel Market, Svendsen, also worked with the Council of Great Lakes Governors, promoting Illinois as an integral part of the Great Lakes Region, specifically the Circle tour which encompasses Illinois' portion of Lake Michigan as it traverses Lake and Cook County along Sheridan Rd.

LAUREL

OVERALL DIMENSIONS: 95'-0" x 68'-0"
LIVING: 8114 square feet
GARAGE: 1281 square feet
COVERAGE: 9395 square feet

209-55 LAUREL
By Landmark Designs

This home has it all. Luxurious and spacious, room are also partially vaulted. the 8,000 square foot Laurel combines the creature comforts of home with the leisure-time capabilities of a first class recreation center. It also has private guest accommodations, a library and a workshop.

Unique to this home is a swimming pool and spa, located in the daylight basement and visually open to all three levels. When the pool is in use, aqua-colored light from the pool dances across the walls and ceiling of the living room, dining room and kitchen on the main floor. Two stories up, the sun room and sitting room adjacent to the master suite, and a glass-walled sky-walk that bridges the main floor, also overlook the pool and catch the moving light.

The basement is definitely recreation central. Kitchen, fireplace, exercise room, sauna - it's all there, along with a recreation room with more than enough space for a ping pong table, pool table, pinball machines, video games and you name it. And, no matter how big the party, there will be no waiting in line to use the bathroom here. Both the sauna and pool have bathrooms, as do each of the bedrooms. In fact, the Laurel has a total of seven bathrooms.

Glass surrounds the double doors in the lofty vaulted entryway. Both the living room and dining room are also partially vaulted.

You can take your choice of views when you eat in the sunny nook - the pool, the rear vista, or back into the huge kitchen. No scarcity of work or storage space here, all designed for efficient work flow.

A guest suite, complete with bathroom, living room and fire place provides cushy quarters for relatives or domestic help. This area could be split into two bedrooms, if needed.

Owners will no doubt enjoy the luxury and privacy of having the whole second floor to themselves. They can watch late night movies while soaking in the spa, or drink hot cocoa prepared in the small kitchen galley, and fall asleep in the flickering light or a wood fire. By leaning slightly over the skylight and loft railings, they can also talk to people in the living room or dining room, or indulge in quiet observation.

Richly windowed on all sides, this contemporary brick home is awash in light. Skylights in the skywalk and loft railings, they can also talk to people in the living room or dining room, or indulge in quiet observation.

For a study plan of the LAUREL (209-55), send $5.00 to Landmark Designs, P.O. Box 2307, Eugene, OR 97402. Designers, Architects and readers with plans they would like to see featured also invited to contact Landmark.

YOUR HOROSCOPE

by Charles King Cooper

ARIES (March 21 to April 19) Your dash and vigor bring admiration from others. Enjoy recreational pursuits. Close friends are the source of much happiness. Curb a tendency to slack off on the job. Avoid escapism, for the late afternoons will bring a genuine opportunity for good times.

TAURUS (April 20 to May 20) Good fellowship marks the week. Speak up at group meetings. Plan a special event with a close friend. Capitalize on your creative gifts. Keep career expectations within reasonable bounds, even though it's a good time to go after what you want. Initiative brings revenue.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 20) Others are prone to exaggerate. Make plans for travel or school. Don't be careless with details. Enjoy popularity at a party. Money can come and go quickly now. Be alert for chances to improve income, but don't let expenses escalate. Safeguard your assets.

CANCER (June 21 to July 22) You can overdo the togetherness theme now. Mingle with others to keep your relationship vital and exciting. Seek mental stimulation. You'll meet with new work opportunities, but you must be sure to complete current assignments. Evening hours accent privacy.

LEO (July 23 to August 22) Social life is active, but be careful not to keep others waiting. You're popular now, and friends will bring you desired benefits. There's plenty of activity on both the career and domestic fronts. Afternoon hours bring the chance you've been waiting for.

VIRGO (August 23 to September 22) Relations with others are very cordial. Travel and distant matters are highly beneficial, but make sure arrangements are carefully planned. Go all-out in business. Contact those in a position to help. Some receive recognition. Don't let financial luck lead to extravagance.

LIBRA (September 23 to October

22) Don't let boredom lead to an ill-advised shopping expedition. Others are reluctant to cooperate financially, which may be just as well. Stay away from dubious investments. Work pressures require that you save time for sufficient rest. Health may be a bit sluggish now.

SCORPIO (October 23 to November 21) Be less suspicious of others' motives. An antisocial mood could result. Don't blame your troubles on others. Practice self-analysis. You're easily distracted now. Self-discipline is needed to counteract daydreaming tendencies. Duty may conflict with social life.

SAGITTARIUS (November 22 to December 21) Business and pleasure don't mix at present. Still, try to remain optimistic about career potential. Shun all negative thinking. A family member may drain some of your energy. Don't let a money delay lead to anxiety. Double-check the cost of legal advice.

CAPRICORN (December 22 to January 19) Financial matters are complicated now. It's not a good time to sign papers or seek credit. Self-consciousness is possible after dark. A confusing situation concerning money could arise with a close friend. A withdrawn mood interferes with social harmony.

AQUARIUS (January 20 to February 18) Distractions can interfere with work performance; so could a lackadaisical attitude. Ignore a friend's indifference after dark. Don't let hypersensitivity affect your relationship with a close friend. Career priorities will take precedence over pleasure needs.

PISCES (February 19 to March 20) Acquaintances are hard to comprehend at present. Don't let a friend's indecisiveness tie your hands. Advisers may be critical. A vague approach to career matters could be detrimental. It's a poor time to initiate agreements. Search for the proverbial loose ends.

Delegates create blueprint for action

The Illinois White House Conference on Aging brought 450 delegates and several hundred observers to Springfield from Oct. 2 through 4, resulting in the creation of a statewide blueprint for action to meet the needs of older adults now and into the 21st century.

The delegates, who were chosen by their Area Agencies on Aging, the Governor's Office and the Illinois Dept. of Aging—voted health the No. 1 concern, followed by access, income, senior rights and housing, and they formulated a series of practical recommendations to address each issue. Additionally, conference delegates prepared a resolution on the Budget Summit, urging that the Illinois Congressional delegation work to protect Medicare and prevent older adults from having to pick up an inequitable portion of the deficit reduction.

Unmet needs in preventive, acute and long term care, according to delegates, create shortfalls in the current health and social service delivery systems. Among them: inadequacies in health care coverage, access to affordable care and service, and the support and training of health care and social service providers. Their resolutions to address these needs, called for federal and state programs to assist caregivers, recommendations to cut medical costs, federal and state funding for home and community based care and senior centers, and a recommendation to create a bi-partisan task force that would plan a workable delivery system for health and social services by 1995.

Access to information, services and transportation formed the foundation of this second issue, and delegate recommendations focused on older adults isolated by geography, physical or mental impairment, culture or language.

The third-priority issue was income, and delegates addressed the Social Security Trust Fund's regulation and operation, exclusion of COLAs and Medicare premiums from public program eligibility, changing the eligibility for these programs to 125 percent of the poverty level, and equal pay and job training for older workers.

The fourth issue explored by delegates was senior rights and ethics, and they called for strengthening of laws governing elder abuse reporting, as well as stricter penalties for abusers, increase funding for several protective services and

The delegates designed housing the final priority issue, requesting that HUD and local agencies offer support services to keep

3 pointers pace Warren to lead in NSC

by STEVE PETERSON
Lakeland Newspapers

They say the closest distance between two points is a straight line.

For Warren Twp. High School's basketball team, that straight line between the start of an offensive lay and a basket was extended this weekend.

But that did not bother the Blue Devils. Warren shot 20-for-30 from three-point range and defeated Zion-Benton 91-63 and Libertyville 66-48.

"The difference in the game was the shooting percentage," Warren Coach Darrel Bader said.

Warren blitzed its home nets for 56 percent marksmanship, led by seven-for-seven by Craig Shelton. Libertyville enjoyed a tie for first place with Warren for less than 24 hours after it had handed Stevenson its first loss of the year, 72-55. Libertyville struggled all night and ended shooting 30 percent.

Warren was 10-for-14 from beyond the blue three-point stripe, led by Shelton's 17 points. The Blue Devils, 8-2 overall and 7-1 in the NSC, are in the prestigious Pontiac Christmas tournament while Libertyville and Stevenson are at Wheeling.

"Craig had a super game at both ends of the floor" Bader said.

"We don't have a particular place where we tell them to shoot the ball from; just as long as it is behind the three-point line," Bader said.

Warren was led in the clutch three-point shooting department by Shelton. Libertyville had cut a 13-point Warren led to six at 32-26 when Shelton buried a three-pointer with one second left before halftime. A few seconds earlier, Ben Bongratz added a free throw after Warren had patiently moved the ball on offense.

Matters went from bad to worse in the third quarter for Sanders' squad. Bongratz, who had 13 points, added two free throws, and Whittington scored on an inside basket and Karolewicz tallied off a nice pass from Shelton for a 42-29 margin.

A three-pointer by Karolewicz and an inside basket by Tim Kohn sent the home team thinking about its Christmas shopping, as it had a 52-35 lead. Libertyville would go scoreless from the field during a key third-quarter drought.

"Their big people did a good job of blocking the ball. This was the first time Brian Davis has had to go against players who were taller than he. It should be a good lesson. They played intelligent and we played dumb," Sanders, whose team slipped to 7-3 overall, said.

Libertyville was coming into the contest off a high note, downing Stevenson 72-55. "Last night was our big game. We did not rise to the occasion; they (Warren) did," Sanders said.

Against Stevenson, Libertyville's inside game was dominate as the Wildcats had most of the rebounds. The home team led early and often as they managed a 19-11 lead after eight minutes. Ahead 36-30 at halftime, as 20-13 run by Libertyville settled matters in the third quarter.

Matt Williams, a senior guard, led the Wildcats with 26 points. Also tallying in double figures was Brian Davis with 16 points.

Chris Coleman was "held" to 15 points for Stevenson while Ronnie Smith had 17 to lead the team. Eric Roth had 11.

In Zion, the Blue Devils were warming up for their showdown with the Wildcats with a romp over last-place Zion.

Ahead by a mere 18-16 after one, Warren began its onslaught of three-pointers in the second quarter, winning that stanza 25-9. Dave Huntington poured in 20 points while Whittington had 17 points and Shelton 10.

Aiming for two

Warren's Aimee Gallagher goes past Stevenson defenders Courtney DeBolt (12) and Jill Prieur (34) en route to two of her five points. Warren won North Suburban Conference game 51-39, giving Coach Bruce Campbell career win No. 200. Stevenson is at St. Viator while Warren is at Maine East in Christmas tournaments.—Photo by Joe Shuman.

Mustangs seek revenge in tourney

Round Lake's basketball team received an early Christmas present in the form of an explosive offense in the opening game of the Hampshire Holiday Classic as well as strong defense in the waning moments of a conference tilt.

The Panthers will battle Mundelein in the rematch of last year's third place game when the tourney resumes at 7 p.m. Dec. 27.

The Panthers led 32-6 after one against Luther East en route to the first time they hit the century mark during Coach Bob Ward's six years. Ward said he did not know if the 102-43 trouncing was a school record.

Round Lake was paced by 24 points from senior Wallg Illg, while junior Pat Lejman had 19, Dave Burton 13 and Brian Smith 11. With leads of as many as 50 points, Round Lake's biggest opponent was keeping concentration.

"Concentration could have been a problem, but I thought the kids handled it well," Round Lake Coach Bob Ward said.

The 10-0 Panthers, third-place finishers last year at Hampshire, have respect for Mundelein, 4-6. Shawn Harlan scored 31 points as Mundelein cruised past Cathedral 89-51. Johnsborg and Lake Zurich also won first-round games. Hampshire edged Grant 51-49, the only loss in the first round for area teams.

'Harlan (Shawn) is a fine player who plays with a lot of intensity and is one of the better rebounders around.'
Round Lake Coach Bob Ward

"Harlan is a fine player who plays with a lot of intensity and he is one of the better rounders around," Ward said of the senior.

For Lake Zurich, the 47-35 win over Jacobs was made possible by a strong second half showing. Steve Vasey scored a season-high 14 points for the Bears, while Rob Grisamore added 13. "We played probably as smart as we played all year," Lake Zurich Coach Doug Cook said.

The Bears face Mt. Carmel in a 5:15 p.m. game Dec. 27. "They're a real solid team. We saw them at the Round Lake summer league and they were very balanced," Cook said of the Caravan, second-place finishers last year.

For Johnsborg, the Skyhawks used 11-5 and 18-7 runs in the second and third quarters to pull away from Geneva 62-38. Pau; Jargstorf had 17 for Johnsborg, which plays Glenbard East at 3 p.m. Dec. 27.

Carmel wrestlers all set to host own tournament

Carmel High School's wrestling team will be hoping to continue its momentum gained at a Lake County invitational when it hosts its own meet Dec. 31.

The meet, which will begin at 9 a.m., will feature eight teams, including Class A powerhouse Harvard. Other teams at Carmel are Libertyville JV, Waukegan JV, North Chicago, Quigly and Highland Park.

Carmel had 145 points in the county meet, and had to overcome Grant in the second day to earn the status behind Waukegan. Grant had 133 points, edging Warren's 129. Going into the second day, Grant had 66 points, while Carmel was in fifth place.

"Our strength now is we're so young. We have only two seniors and everyone is coming along," Carmel Coach Joe Scordino said.

The Corsairs were led by sophomore Derrick Noble, who stayed perfect at 112 pounds and won the Lake County meet title. He pinned Dave McClellan of Warren in 3:36.

"He has improved and kept it going," Scordino said of the sophomore Noble, a state qualifier last year.

Junior Chris Perlitz at 152 on a title, pinning Jamal Clifton at 3:04 James Brophy gained a title at 160 pounds downing Stevenson's Chris Chang in 1:29. Brophy is in a different weight class this year, as he was a sectional qualifier at 145 pounds last year.

In other titles, Nate Schroeder of Wauconda battled another heavyweight off to a good start as he downed Jason Brunati of Warren.

Mundelein placed sixth in the county meet with 118 points, finishing ahead of Stevenson. Highlights of Mundelein, which will be at the Carmel meet, included: Eric Browne finishing second at 199 and Andy Holen second at 125.

The Mustangs' effort featured an inspirational showing from Flavio Morales. A first-year as a wrestler, the junior gained fifth place at 103 pounds. "The kids is a real good athlete. It was just a matter of time as how quickly he would come along," Mundelein Coach Dennis Szymkowiak said.

Morales is a three-sport athlete for MHS, competing in cross country and track and field as well.

The county meet, once had 18 teams, but is down to 12.

"I think teams want to wrestle against someone different," Szymkowiak said.

Wauconda gains .500 mark

No, that was not a misprint next to the name Wauconda in the Northwest Suburban Conference standings. Yes, the Bulldogs are at .500 heading into the Christmas tournament at Marengo.

Two close wins gave Wauconda a 5-5 overall record, 3-2 in the NWSC. Wauconda rallied to nip Lake Zurich 60-58 and edged Richmond-Burton 73-72.

Wauconda trailed 44-29 to the Bears before staging the comeback. "It's a good feeling for all of us," Wauconda coach Dave Gardner said of reaching .500. "We kept whittling away at the lead and ran our offense better than we have in the past."

George Roberts sank a baseline jump shot with nine seconds left to secure the Bulldogs the win. It was with Roberts' lone field goal of the night. Suhr led WHS with 12.

Against Richmond, Wauconda ran out the clock after the Rockets had pulled to within one with a three-pointer in the waning seconds. Roberts led Wauconda with 17 points, while Troy Sabourin added 13 and Suhr had 14.

"We're slowly but surely gaining the respect of the conference. That's what we've got to work on in the second half," Gardner said.

St. Peter, Santa Maria, Prince of Peace advance

There will be a new champion and at least one new member of the final four in the 1990-91 Knights of Columbus Mid-Season Lake County boys basketball championship.

The defending champion, St. Mary's of Buffalo Grove, fell to Our Lady of the Wayside 55-43 Saturday at the College of Lake County. Our Lady used a full-court press to take the Bison out of its offense early.

The first and second round games played Friday and Saturday had Santa Maria, Prince of Peace and St. Peter of Antioch all advancing to the third round. For Prince of Peace, it marked the farthest the Lake Villa school has advanced in the five years of the Knights of Columbus Chapter 9689's tourney.

Dave Smith scored 20 of St. Peter's 38 points in a 38-16 romp over St. Mary's of Fremont Center.

The most exciting game of the two days came when St. Pats met St. Raymond in the day's final contest. The Hornets had advanced to the final four every year of the tournament, but finally met their match.

St. Raymond led by as many as 12 points going into the final quarter before St. Pats staged a rally.

Brian Kuhar paced the Hornets with five baskets on a 10-2 run. The Pats closed to within four, 45-41, on two Jason Wegener free throws and two on a Kuhar basket.

But St. Raymond, from Mt. Prospect, pulled away with a 10-2 run of its won in the final stages for a 55-43 win.

Third round games Dec. 29 will pit St. Emily vs. Santa Maria, at 8:30 a.m.; St. Theresa clashes with St. Thomas of Villanova at 9:45 a.m.; Prince of Peace battles Our Lady of Wayside at 11 a.m. and St. Peter clashes with St. Raymond at 12:15 p.m.

Final four games will be played at 2:30 and 3:45 p.m. at CLC, leading to the tournament championship Dec. 30.

A girls tournament and free-throw shooting competition are set for January.

In addition to vying for wins on the basketball court, the teams are competing for the Keith Ryan Pride and School Spirit Award, given to the team which exemplifies the highest extreme of moral and ethical standards.

Toys, toys and more toys

Mountains of toys collected at eight Lake County Forest Preserves were given to the United States Marine Corps the week before Christmas. Staff Sgt. Gregory Cummings, left, of the Marine Corps Reserve Training Center in Waukegan receives the gifts from Knute Sandahl, right, Forest Preserve ranger/police officer. Although the public donated many of the toys, the largest single contributor was James Eckmann Associates Inc. of Libertyville, a nationwide toy distributor. The firm is owned by the husband of Libertyville Mayor JoAnn Eckmann.

Toys for Tots barrels filled at Forest sites

Hundreds of children throughout Lake County had a happier Christmas this year, thanks to the Toys for Tots campaign and generous donors at eight Lake County Forest Preserve sites.

In the month leading up to Christmas Toys for Tots collection barrels were placed at Forest Preserve locations—the general office in Libertyville, Ryerson Conservation Area in Deerfield, the Lake County Museum and ranger office in the Lakewood Forest Preserve near Wauconda, Daniel Wright Woods in Mundelein, Old School Forest Preserve in Libertyville, Van Patten Woods Preserve in Zion and the Greenbelt Forest Preserve in Waukegan.

The U.S. Marine Corps, sponsors of the annual campaign, collected the barrels just before Christmas. The toys were then distributed the week before Christmas.

Both Forest Preserve personnel and the Marine Corps were overwhelmed by the toys collected.

FOOT FACTS From The FOOT DOCTOR

Dr. Winters

Dr. Griff J. Winters & Assoc.

Specializing in Reconstructive Foot & Ankle Surgery

PLANTAR WARTS

Warts are caused by a virus infection and are often mistaken as corns and calluses. Warts on the bottom of the foot penetrate deep under the skin like a mushroom, because of pressure in standing. Unlike corns and calluses, the center encapsulated area usually has red-colored spots that are small blood vessels and nerves that supply the wart. For this reason warts are more painful with side to side pinching.

Warts are contagious to susceptible people and are usually found in adolescents.

If the plantar wart is small and discovered early, prescribed chemical agents often times are all that are needed. For large or resistant warts, we often times use Laser surgery that gives good results with minimal discomfort. This is done on an out-patient basis and the patient loses no time off his foot.

If you have the above symptoms or any other foot discomfort, you may contact Dr. Winters for a NO COST CONSULTATION to see if there may be an answer to your foot pain.

Drains Run Slow?

You'll never have a slow running, or clogged drain again! The secret? Clean drains don't run slow.

Slow drains, or periodic clogs, are SIGNALS that a thick layer of GOOK is choking your pipes. Grease, hair, and other waste stick to your pipes, with every use. This gook deposits along the entire length of the pipe. It chokes your pipes gradually, as it gets thicker and thicker.

Conventional drain openers can't fix slow drains. They react chemically on the surface of the gook. To be effective, they must remain in contact with the waste. Even a small tunnel through the gook lets them flow out to the sewer, leaving the gook behind.

In the past, the only way to remove this build-up was to rooter your pipes. An expensive, temporary measure.

Extension Service urges re-use Christmas trees

The Christmas tree, the wreaths, the boughs are wonderful holiday symbols to fill homes with scent and beauty. Once the holidays have passed, it's time to find other ways to use the decorations.

Never through of doing anything other than discarding the tree? Think again, says Pam Cater, Horticulture Adviser at the Lake County Cooperative Extension Service in Grayslake. If all households throw away the tree and trimmings, think how quickly that will fill up landfill sites.

You can do something other than throw the greenery away. Recycle it. Cut trees and evergreen branches have so many uses in the landscape, you'll be surprised you never re-used them before.

Create a feeding station for the birds and other backyard wildlife in the old Christmas tree.

Secure the tree in the yard by wiring it to a post or deck; nailing it to a flat wooden base and anchoring it with rope and three stakes; or supporting the trunk in a five-gallon bucket filled with damp sand. Cranberry and popcorn garlands will provide initial interest and a snack, but plan to add other nutritious treats such as apples and other fruits from wreaths, and leftover holiday breads, cakes, and nuts. The animals will love the sheltered dining atmosphere.

In spring, use the tree skeleton as a trellis for morning glories or climbing sweet peas. These plants will sufficiently cover the sparse appearance of the tree by mid-summer.

Cut boughs laid over a rock garden of perennial and bulb bed insulate plants against wind, severe cold, and soil heaving. Care must be taken not to smother the plants; you should be able to see plants through the branches. Put the tree stump in the firewood pile.

Place shed needles and small boughs from mantles and wreaths around acid-loving plants such as blueberries, rhododendrons and azaleas for mulch.

Use your shredder or borrow your neighbor's and shred neighborhood trees for mulch. Some communities collect trees for shredding, then use the resulting mulch material on community landscape projects or allow citizens to bag it up and take home to use in their yards.

If you live in an apartment, save fresh needles for stuffing scented pillows and hot pads. Place pillows in drawers and closets where they will be crushed or agitated, releasing the evergreen scent. Potholders and hotpads made from heavy, quilted material and stuffed with conifer needles are perfect conductors of the fresh pine scent since the needles release their aroma when slightly heated.

Holiday tree roundup planned

A new "Holiday Tree Roundup" program will allow Lake County residents to drop off their used Christmas trees at nearby forest preserves.

Before dropping off their trees, lake County residents should remove all tinsel and ornaments. Only Christmas trees and Hanukkah bushes will be accepted, no yard waste. Commercial tree sellers are prohibited. The program will end Jan. 13.

Holiday Tree Roundups will take place in these forest preserves: Van Patten Woods near Zion, Greenbelt in Waukegan and North Chicago, Old School near Libertyville, Wright Woods in Mettawa, Ryerson in Deerfield and Lakewood near Wauconda.

Additional information is available from the Lake County Forest Preserve District at (708)367-6640.

Blood donors send messages to troops in Persian Gulf

LifeSource, Illinois' largest blood center, announces an opportunity for residents of the Chicago metropolitan area to give blood to meet the needs locally and in the Persian Gulf and to show their support for American service men and women involved in Operation Desert Shield. The not-for-profit blood center will provide all blood donors greeting cards to sign and send (with personal messages if they wish) to our troops in the Persian Gulf.

The cards will be available at all LifeSource blood drives and donor centers. The blood center will provide complimentary mailing services. Donors can direct these cards to a particular member of the military they know, or write to an unknown service man or woman.

"We wanted to give all our donors the opportunity to express their support for the service men and women in the Persian Gulf," stated J. Daniel Connor, president of LifeSource. "In the card, it says 'even though you are far away from home, you'll want to know that people here at home are looking after one another'."

"When you think of all the times we have turned to our donors and asked their help, we are really proud that we have a program that will enable local people to be personally in touch with our troops in the Persian Gulf. Not only will these Chicago area residents have a way to display their patriotism by providing blood both here at home and in the Middle East, but also their wish for peace," said Susan B. Stuttle, director, donor services.

For information on how and where to donate blood, call LifeSource during normal business hours at (708)298-9660 in the suburbs or (312)808-7660 in Chicago.

LifeSource is one of several selected blood centers in the United States that has begun shipping blood each week to the Armed Forces Blood Program. This is the first time that blood has been requested from civilian blood centers by the military since World War II.
